

Frank Stewart

More than 20 years of research-driven design solutions.

Experience

Consultant

12/21 - present

Washington, DC // UX Strategy

- Assisting organizations in crafting business-driven experiences that are accessible, consistent, and beneficial for their users

EVERFI

01/16 - 12/21

Washington, DC // UX Director

- Built an award-winning, 4-person UX team from the ground up
- Developed and implemented a scalable design system and repeatable user-centered design process that included user research, testing, and rapid prototyping
- Collaborated with senior developers to ensure that wireframes were accessible and met technical requirements
- Worked closely with VP of Design to align UX strategy with business objectives

The Motley Fool

07/12 - 12/15

Washington, DC // UX Designer

- Collaborated with writers and developers to create innovative and user-centric products for new and existing members
- Built web components and implemented an agile process

Protest or Parade

06/08 - 07/12

Washington, DC // Founder and Creative Director

- A boutique design firm with expertise in design strategy and lean development process
- Project work for diverse clients in: fashion, media, technology, finance, government, non-profit and startups

Education

Berklee College of Music

Music

The University of Texas at Austin

History

Skills

- Experience leading complicated research studies with large data sets and numerous dependencies
- Proven experience with managing and mentoring UX designers and researchers; providing feedback, coaching, and career development opportunities
- Thrives in an ambiguous, scaling, iterative design and development culture
- Excellent technical UX expertise and skills
- Strong leadership qualities, building partnerships across the organization and understanding business and customer needs
- Proficiency with tools, such as Figma, TryMyUI, Fable, JIRA
- Track record of innovative solutions that benefit both business and user needs